Have Not Only Attacked Peaceful Working Men and Officers of the Law, but Have Invaded Another State

Wheeling, W. Va., July 17.—Sheriff H. H. Duvall, of Brooke county, W. Va., and several of his deputies were killed this morning in a fight at the Richland coal mines near Wellsburg, according to information received here. Sheriff Clouse before leaving for the mines said he was informed that the miners were involved in a fight and that they had burned the Richland tippie and fired houses at Cliftondale, a mining village near by.

TEN MEN KILLED

Wellsburg, W. Va., July 17.—(By Telephone to Pittsburgh).—Police headquarters today reported its information from the Richland mines was that ten men, including the sheriff, met death in a fight there this morning. The chief clerk in the police department said the trouble started at 5 a. m., when striking miners are said to have marched from across the Pennsylvania state line and fired the tippie.

MINERS LOST SEVERAL MEN

Wellsburg, July 17.—(By Telephone to Pittsburgh).—Sheriff H. H. Duvall and eight men are known to have been killed, and a large number were wounded in the fight at the Clifton mine of the Richland Coal Company, ten miles from Wellsburg, near the Pennsylvania state line today. The dead were brought to Wellsburg and the wounded taken to Wheeling hospitals.

The sheriff and about twenty deputies were at the mine after receiving reports the mine would be attacked. The mine had been operating with non-union men. Firing from the hills began about daybreak. The sheriff and his deputies immediately rushed the attackers. The sheriff's son, who was in the party, said he believed only the sheriff was killed and one deputy wounded. The other dead and wounded were the attackers. The deputies captured several of the attackers.

MINERS AFRAID OF NEWSPAPER MEN

Stubenville, O., July 17.—Automobiles carrying newspaper men and ambulances proceeding from Wellsburg and Follansbee, W. Va., to the Richland mine were turned back by bullets at 9:45 this morning, according to work received here. Firing was still going on along the road leading to the mines.

McCUMBER SAYS POLITICAL POISON DEFEATED HIM

Washington, July 17.—Political "poison" which has been circulated for more than two years in North Dakota, is the cause of the defeat of Senator McCumber, according to his own version of the matter.

In a letter, in which he expressed his gratitude to one of his campaign managers, R. J. Hughes of Fargo, Senator McCumber expresses his views:

"During the last two months," the senator wrote, "you have conducted a most strenuous campaign in my behalf. In the conduct of that campaign you have at all times maintained the highest standard of political ethics. Your course has been straightforward and honorable and you have persistently avoided any character of abuse or misrepresentation of an opponent. I thank you for that course."

"These two months were too short a period to overcome the poison that had been sown broadcast for more than two years ago or to meet the bipartisan combination which had been made against me on the one side and the non-partisan organization which so loyally supported my opponent. I know that you and my other good friends did everything within your power to bring about my nomination, but with my lines broken and with a united organization supporting my opponent the odds were too great for you to overcome."

"I am taking this opportunity to express to you and to all my friends in the state who have so faithfully labored with you in my behalf my great gratitude and my earnest and sincere thanks."

POLITICAL PERSECUTION

Indictment Against Representative A. T. Stuart of Hillsborough Dismissed

Lockport, N. Y., July 16.—Allen T. Stuart, former Niagara Falls lawyer and now a member of the Florida house of representatives, was exonerated on a charge of grand larceny in county court here yesterday. The charge, five years old, was dismissed by Judge Hickey. The district attorney's office would make no explanation of the dismissal of the indictment.

It is said that there was no settlement with Melchior Zeifang, the Niagara Falls man who accused Stuart of misappropriating $120 which he had collected on a judgment while he was practicing law at Niagara Falls. The assumption is that the indictment was found faulty and that Stuart's demand for its dismissal was granted. Stuart would not comment on his vindication except to say that his "political enemies in Florida will be advised of it."

CONDITION OF CROPS

General Improvements Reported All Over the State for June

Gainesville, July 17.—General improvement in the condition of crops over the state during the month of June was noted according to the review of the Federal Bureau of Crop Estimates here for that month.

June bloom for citrus fruits may offset dry weather losses of the early season, according to the bureau. The condition of oranges improved during June and was fully up to prospects of a year ago on July 1. With the setting of fruit for this year's heavy late bloom, a climb in condition is expected.

Grapefruit prospects are not so good. The condition was 60 per cent of normal, which does not show any improvement over a month ago and was a little below the condition a year ago, which was 86 per cent of normal. Some improvement will take place with the setting of fruit from the late bloom, which, however, was not as heavy for grapefruit as for oranges.

The condition of limes, which are moving to market, was 81 per cent of normal, compared with 79 per cent a month ago and 82 per cent last year at this time.

The citrus crop as a whole is having better weather conditions than it had during June and the early part of July last year.

The state's corn acreage is estimated at 756,000 acres, smaller than that of last year, 788,000. The condition is better than it was a year ago but is far from normal.

Production is estimated at 10,735,000 bushels compared with 11,032,000 bushels last year.

Regular plantings of sweet potatoes are somewhat below that of last year, but an increased acreage in early potatoes for the northern market brings the state's acreage up to that of last year, 32,000 acres. Production is estimated at 3,200,000 bushels, against 2,700,000 bushels last year.

Early indications point to a decreased hay acreage and with production estimated at 106,000 tons. Last year production was 116,000 tons.

The planting of late peanuts is not yet over but present prospects point to a total acreage for the state something like ten per cent smaller than that of last year. On this basis, the state's acreage will be around 260,000 compared with 287,000 acres last year. Production is estimated at slightly over 2,000,000 bushels compared with 2,160,000 bushels last year.

The state's rice acreage has dropped from 4000 last year to around 3000 acres this year. The crop is below usual condition and production is estimated at 70,000 bushels compared with 88,000 bushels last year.

At time of harvest, the condition of oats is reported to have been 60 per cent of normal, the same figure reported last year. Production, for the acreage cut for grain, was 500,000 against 533,000 last year.

The watermelon season is not quite over but shipments will exceed 11,000 cars, against 5772 cars last season. Production is estimated at 200 per cent of usual. The state has shipped 162 cars of cantaloupes compared with 32 cars last year. Production was fully 300 per cent of usual.
